A Kindergarten Perspective – Mrs. Hovis

As we begin a new calendar year, our kindergarten students continue to grow and learn in so many ways! As I contemplated what we could share about our class, I continually came back to the same theme for our class this year. So many things have changed in our lives in the past year, but if you were to look through our classroom window, you have many opportunities to smile!

In our kindergarten classroom environment, we laugh, we play, and we LEARN! Our students absorb so much during this time in their lives. They are learning to count, add, subtract, write and represent numbers, identify shapes, and tell time. They are learning their letters and the sounds they make, putting those letters together to spell and read words. They are learning science and social studies concepts, like about hibernation and penguins, our environment and the weather. Most importantly though, our students are learning how to interact with others and how to treat each other.

In a time in our lives where adults are having so much division and difficulty working for a common cause, our students are watching and learning. In our kindergarten classes, we discuss how to show empathy for others and be kind. We practice being a good listener and a friend to everyone. The kindergarten perspective is very basic, but if you ask me, it works for any age! As we continue to learn new things throughout our school days, we will continue to practice those basic social skills so vital to these students' lives. As the adults in their lives, we might take a moment to consider that kindergarten perspective.

First Grade

Mrs. Berner

How is it February already? Time flies when you're having fun. We are learning so much in 1st grade. We are working on becoming fluent in basic addition and subtraction by taking timed tests. We have learned about comparing numbers, place value, money, time, and our next chapter will be on measurement. In Reading, we are learning our sight words and working on becoming better readers. We also love to take AR tests to earn our Book-It Pizza. We get excited when it is time for Science. We are currently learning about the solar system. We also enjoy going to music, art, library, PE and recess. We are looking forward to Valentine's Day. Our year has been a little different, but we haven't let that stop us from learning. We miss all of our extra help with Grandma Dora, 6th grade helpers, Jr. High students, High School aids, and the public librarians. We can't wait to have them all in our room again. We are thankful to be in school and with our friends.
